INDIA AT THE CROSSROADS

Standing at the crossroads
Searching for what's lost,
We find ourselves looking for it,
In the cracks of the past.
Histories of great rule, ruins of the war
Glimmer in the horizon, that shines afar.

Gaze at this view of the sunset,
Colours a mix of red, flowing tinges of hues.
Predicament lies somewhere,
Somewhere there's faith
The worry, the hope,
A little while longer, a little more to wait
Hear what the Motherland says,
The murmurs of this country
Look for all the ways,
To stitch up the camaraderie

Soak in this glory, breathe in this still moment.
Gather it in our memories, the truth for a lifetime
Behold the Country's majestic colours.
Saffron, White; Blues and Green.
Imprint them on your hearts.
Progress to be forever seen

Vanshika Andriyas of Class XII
bagged First Position in Sarojini Naidu
Poetry Recitation Competition organised by St.Thomas' School.

Blood is indeed thicker than water.
Flowing through the veins of us all.
This Country's soil whispers softly.
Let us not let it fall.
Come on run and hold the flame high.
A hope to wash the fears away

Awake and Arise, Evolve my Motherland.
Promises it sets our heart ablaze
INDIA AT THE CROSSROADS
Once called a Golden Bird,
An abode of past glories,
Joyous triumphs once heard.

Something better surely awaits.
Never let that faith shimmer out.
The young stand firm, tall and strong.
Partaking in the odyssey, in leaps and bounds.
India at this intersection, fate is in our hands.
We will fall apart without others.
Shoulder to shoulder we must stand

Never should the light dim, with fire in our hearts.
Truth in our minds, Igniting the freedom within.
A precious land of wealthy intellect.
Beginning the journey from
The CROSSROADS
Blending the Old and Creating the New
Reaching the Goal and Beholding its View.
